

Analysis Questions

1. How does the price vary based on the car's registered year?
2. How is the pricing of used cars distributed among different manufacturers?
3. What is the distribution of cars across different price ranges?
4. What is the average price of different car manufacturers?
5. What is the median price of different car manufacturers?
6. Which car manufacturer has the highest range of prices?
7. What is the distribution of cars value for each manufacturer in terms of market share?
8. What are the top 10 car models that have the highest price range?
9. How is the pricing distributed across different cities?
10. How does the price of used cars differ among different models?
11. How does the median price of used cars vary across different cities?
12. How does the average price of used cars vary across different cities?
13. What is the median price of cars of different segments?
14. What is the median price of cars in each city of different segments?
15. Which manufacturer's cars are listed above or close to the market average price for the Budget and Mid-sized car segments?
16. Which manufacturer's cars are listed below the market average price for the Budget and Mid-sized car segments?
17. Are there any notable differences in price between different fuel types of specific manufacturers?
18. Is there a significant variation in prices based on fuel types and their respective locations?
19. Which car models have the highest and lowest average prices based on the fuel type?
20. Are there any notable differences in price between different transmission types of specific manufacturers?
21. Is there a significant variation in prices based on transmission types and their respective locations?
22. Which car models have the highest and lowest average prices based on the transmission type?
23. Which city offers the highest average summer discount?
24. Which city offers the highest amount of summer discounts?
25. Which registered number series has the highest average value?